

HORRIBLE DEATH OF BANK CASHIER IN SIGHT OF WIFE AND SON

GEORGE LAWRENCE SENTENCED

Given 2 Years in County Jail For Assault on His Wife.

It is to be a long drouth for George E. Lawrence, refuted capitalist, who this morning was sentenced by Judge Henry Melvin to serve two years in the County Jail for an assault committed on his wife, whom he slashed with a knife.

In sentencing him, the Judge said: "You have been found guilty of an assault with a deadly weapon upon your wife, and you see where your indulgence in a course of drink has brought you.

"There was considerable testimony introduced during the trial of this case tending to show that you were not in your right mind at the time you committed this assault, owing to drink.

IS NOT INSANE.

"You have been examined by Dr. D. Lustig, one of the best experts on the subject in the country, and he has told me that you are not insane, but that your brain has deteriorated by reason of your long indulgence in drink.

"I believe, therefore, that you should be placed where you will be kept away from liquor, and your system given a chance to recover itself.

"I do not think you are a criminal at heart. The law allows me to send you either to the State's Prison or the County Jail for a period of not exceeding two years.

"I believe that the cause of justice would be served with confinement in the County Jail, and it is hereby ordered that you be confined there for the period of two years."

STAGGERS LAWRENCE.

Getting the limit allowed by law for his offense seemed to stagger Lawrence, and for a few seconds he stood without moving after sentence had been pronounced upon him, then he turned and shook hands with his attorney, Judge E. M. Gibson, and went away in company with Deputy Sheriff Bert Brown, back to the County Jail, where they have nothing but water to drink, and the sound of the popping cork is unknown.

His recent trial was the result of numerous quarrels with his wife, which ended on the afternoon of February 14th, with his assaulting her with a knife as she was standing talking through a telephone in their home.

The knife went into her cheek and down into her shoulder. It was some time before he was arrested, and it is stated that his wife would not have sworn to the complaint at all if he would have agreed to leave her alone.

But every time he got drunk he would swear that he would go out and "get her," and finally she swore to the complaint and had him arrested.

Even at the trial of the case, according to her attorney, she did not tell all she could have told, and he sat and sneered at her throughout the time she was on the witness stand facing him.

CUDAHY'S DENIAL

OMAHA, October 4.—Edward A. Cudahy today gave the Associated Press a signed statement touching the confession said to have been made by Pat Crowe, in which he says:

"As to the alleged statement of Crowe that my son was a party to the plot, it is so absurd, particularly in the light of his previous statements, that I can hardly believe that he made it. It certainly is untrue. For several years I have made efforts towards securing the arrest of Crowe, although having had two letters sent to me signed by him, admitting that he alone was guilty of the kidnapping and begging clemency, saying that he wanted to start life anew. In one of these letters he said: 'I am guilty of the Cudahy affair. I am to blame. After it was over I regretted my act and offered to return $21,000 to Mr. Cudahy, but he refused to take it and then I went to South Africa, where I joined the rebel army and was badly wounded, being shot twice. Then I returned to America and repeatedly tried to make peace with the man I wronged.' I have felt duty bound from agreeing not to prosecute him, believing that this was a matter entirely within the province of the State authorities. I deplore the continued publicity which has been given this entire matter, for it has been a constant source of anxiety and annoyance to me and to all the members of my family."

GOOD CHANCE SO SAVE THE STEAMSHIP ALAMEDA

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—It is thought today that there is a possibility of saving the steamer Alameda now on the rocks at Fort Point. Divers have discovered that the principal hole in her bottom is under her boilers and that it can be closed. The pumps already installed in the vessel are able to control the water in her forward hold. All dry cargo has been discharged, and though there is considerable swell in the bay it has done no damage to the steamer.

METCALF MAKES A PROTEST

Expresses Surprise That Cabinet Took Such a Stand.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Strong protest was made by Secretary Metcalf of the Department of Commerce and Labor against any modification by the State Department of its circular of June 26 directing the American consuls in China to personally inquire into the truth of statements in Chinese certificates before vizing them.

The circular was the principal subject of discussion at yesterday's cabinet meeting, which Secretary Metcalf was unable to attend on account of illness.

He expressed great surprise today on learning that in his absence the cabinet members present took the position that the regulations of the Department of Commerce and Labor were responsible for the strained relations between the countries over the subject of the admission of Chinese to a greater degree than are the laws themselves.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—Alexander Corbin, a hair dresser, committed suicide today by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. He was arrested recently for trying to jump from a ferry boat, and he is said to have acted queerly for some time past.

SEARCHING FOR THUGS

SEATTLE, Washn., Oct. 4.—Though officers engaged in the chase of the bandits who held up the Great Northern overland Monday night have not entirely abandoned the theory that a part or all of the gang may have escaped by water, the posses are pursuing the three fugitives known to have escaped from the scene by the county road that runs near the railroad tracks.

Fairly reliable evidence indicates that no parties went away from the scene by boat. If that is true the three men who fled inland were the only ones engaged in the robbery.

Dead or alive the express company and the railroad want those train robbers and the fact has been impressed on the pursuing posses.

Superintendent Waring stated this morning for the Express Company that $700, the money received by the Tacoma and Seattle officers, would cover the loss to the Express Company. Another report from Everett places the sum at $1,355.

SUICIDES AT SEA

NEW YORK, October 4.—The drowning of Charles Westhofer of Chicago, who jumped overboard at sea, was reported by the steamer Prinz Oskar, which arrived here to-day from Italian ports. Westhofer was a first-class passenger on the Prinz Oskar and was 42 years old.

While the steamer was near the harbor of Palermo, Westhofer went to Captain Dugge and said that he was going to jump overboard. He handed this captain all of his personal effects asking that they be taken care of.

Other passengers heard Westhofer's announcement, but they and the captain laughed about the matter as a practical joke. As Westhofer went to dinner with the other passengers immediately after this announcement no further attention was paid to his announcement. But after eating two or three courses he left the table, went to the deck and jumped overboard.

The Prinz Oskar stopped and searched vainly for him for an hour.

FALLS 4 STORIES FROM A WINDOW OF HIS HOME.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Notwithstanding a desperate struggle of his wife and son to hold him by the foot, after he had fainted and toppled over the sill of an open window, George F. Kraepp, cashier of the Cooper Exchange Bank, fell to the street from the fourth floor of his home at 209 West Ninety-seventh street today and was killed.

Mrs. Kraepp and her son, Herbert, saw Mr. Kraepp, who was in ill health, suddenly fall over backwards. Mother and son jumped to the window in time to seize the falling man by the feet.

They held him safely for a few seconds, screaming for help, but the assistance was slow in coming and Mr. Kraepp's weight began to pull him away from his rescuers.

The realization of this terrible fact caused the wife's strength to desert her completely and the son, with his mother helpless at his side, was compelled to hold his father alone and was too light for his father's superior weight.

Exhausted and upon the point of being dragged over the window sill himself, the boy lost his grip and Mr. Kraepp fell to the street. He died soon afterwards. He was 52 years old.

MILLIONAIRE PRAISES ROCKEFELLER

CHICAGO, OCT. 4.—"I WOULD RATHER BE JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER TODAY, DIVESTED OF HIS WEALTH AND WITH HIS LOVABLE PERSONALITY, THAN ANY OF THE CREW, SAINTS OR SINNERS, WHO ARE ATTACKING HIM."

The foregoing is a quotation from an interview published today, from Dr. D. K. Pearsons, a Chicago millionaire, nationally known as a philanthropist.

Dr. Pearsons continued: "To the popular mind, excited just now by serialist outeries, there is no wealth that is untainted.

"This cry of 'tainted money' is no jest. It is unfair and not American.

"It has become the rallying cry of the Socialist, the drone and the discontented member of society, who hates those whose talents of wealth exceed his own."

Mr. Pearsons, after talking in this strain with vigor for some time, showed a recent letter which he had received from Mr. Rockefeller. Divested of personalities, it continued:

"Thank you for your kind words, good friend. I appreciate them. Life is short and you and I have too much to do in the world to be diverted from our purpose to try to make things better.

"Let us keep right on and do our best in our day and generation, rejoicing in the beautiful sentiment expressed by our lamented Lincoln, 'With malice towards none and charity for all.'"

"Sincerely your friend, J. D. ROCKEFELLER."

WOMAN IS HELD FOR MURDER

MRS. BESSIE VENCELAU, who is on trial for the murder of her husband.

WOMAN OF WEALTH DIES FROM RATTLESNAKE BITE

EUREKA, Cal., Oct. 4.—Miss Margaret Murray, a pioneer school teacher of this county, died yesterday at Eureka, 70 miles north of Eureka, from the bite of a rattlesnake which struck her in the foot as she was going to a school.

A physician was summoned from the Indian reservation, 30 miles away, but his efforts to save her life were unsuccessful. She was 60 years of age, wealthy and prominently connected.

RAILROAD LEGISLATION CERTAIN

President Roosevelt Determined to Have Freight Rates Regulated.

WASHINGTON, October 4.—"President Roosevelt is dead in earnest on the question of railroad rate legislation, and is just as determined as ever that railroad regulations shall be enacted looking to Federal supervision of the freight rate situation."

This statement was made today by Representative Townsend of Michigan, one of the authors of the so-called Esch-Townsend railroad rate bill.

Representative Townsend called today to talk over the general subject with the President, and of the necessity for making changes in the measure which he and Mr. Esch proposed last winter.

VIEWES UNCHANGED.

"I have no authority to represent the President's views as to railroad rates," said Mr. Townsend, "but I can say that he entertains now the same views in principle as he expressed in his message last December. The crux

MANY ARE MISSING NAMES

CHARLEVOIX, Mich., October 4.—A fishing boat with four families of Indians from Garden Island, including several women and children, left here September 25 for Beaver Island, and it has been given up as lost. There are supposed to have been about twenty Indians in the boat.

LONDON, October 4.—Foreign Secretary Lansdowne today replied to the Russian invitation to Great Britain to be represented at the second peace conference at The Hague, accepting it in principle but deferring final decision until more fully informed regarding the questions proposed to be discussed.

Will Show in the Superior Court Shooting Was an Accident.

Mrs. Bessie Vencelau, who on September 18 last is alleged to have shot and killed her husband, Manuel Francisco Vencelau, at their home on Jefferson street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, was held to answer this morning for trial before the Superior Court by Acting Police Judge Geary on a charge of murder.

It is probable that the woman would have been discharged from custody had she been physically able to testify as all of the evidence given that the shooting was accidental and was brought about by the wife's desire to commit suicide. In fact the theory of accidental shooting is so well sustained by the evidence that Manuel Vencelau, son of the dead man who swore to the complaint, stated in an interview that he believes the killing was accidental.

BELIEVES HER GUILTLLESS.

"When the case comes to trial," he says, "I will give my evidence. I do not believe my step-mother intended to take my father's life. I believe she intended harming herself. When the time comes I will tell all that I know. I swore to the complaint because the police wanted someone connected with the family to do so."

Attorney A. L. Frick, who represented Mrs. Vencelau, tried to prevail upon his client to take the witness stand and tell the same story that she has heretofore told. The self-made widow said she could not go through the ordeal of her freedom was in sight. Mrs. Vencelau was dressed in mourning, and cried softly during the hearing.

FIRST WITNESS.

The first witness examined was Policeman Harry Green. He stated that on the day the wife is alleged to have shot her husband to prevent him from going to Eureka and leaving her, he saw the wife standing beside the stretcher on which the husband was subsequently taken to the Receiving Hospital. The wife said the shooting was accidental and she was trying to comfort her mortally wounded spouse, but he would have none of it.

Policeman Cox was the next witness. He arrested Mrs. Vencelau.

"When I arrived at the house," said Cox, "I asked the defendant who shot her husband. She replied 'I did. He was going to leave me and I was jealous. I went to get the revolver to shoot myself. He grabbed it and in the scuffle it went off."

FINDS THE GUN

"I next asked her," continued Cox, "where the gun was. She went into next room and returned with the revolver. It had one bullet in it and one empty compartment which had recently been discharged."

At this point the pistol and the unexploded bullet was admitted into evidence by Judge Geary.

When the wife saw the pistol she trembled visibly.

Mrs. Sarah Moran, Mrs. Angela Higuera and Mrs. Mary Wright, neighbors, then were called to the stand. The testimony of Mrs. Moran was only evidence of the three women which was material.

She testified that Mrs. Vencelau had called to her to get a glass of whiskey. She did this and brought it to where the husband was lying. "Mrs. Vencelau took the whiskey," said the witness, "and offered it to her husband. He refused it, saying 'I will take nothing from you.' Mrs. Vencelau then bathed her husband with it. She told him she was sorry that the thing had occurred."

DOCTOR'S STORY.

Dr. O. D. Hamlin, who first attended the patient at the Receiving Hospital and afterwards at the Providence Hospital, where Vencelau died, then testified. He stated the bullet entered the abdomen about an inch to the right of the navel and took a downward course for about five inches. There were fifteen perforations of the intestines. Vencelau died 24 hours after being admitted to the hospital.

M'CALL TELLS OF THE BLACKMAILERS

Declares That Three-Fourths of Bills Against Insurance Companies Are For Extortion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—John A. McCall, president of the New York Life Insurance Company, was again called to testify before the special committee investigating the life insurance companies of this State when the sessions of the committee were resumed today.

For the first time since the investigations began James McKeen, associated with Mr. Hughes as counsel for the committee conducted the examination. Mr. McKeen, who has been studying the technical end of the life insurance business opened by outlining to Mr. McCall the power and scope of the committee and said its report to the legislature will in no way be limited by the testimony taken at these sessions.

Mr. McCall, in answer to questions by Mr. McKeen, described in detail the system used in making reports to State Insurance Departments and also explained the mortality tables followed by the New York Life Insurance Company.

FOR POLICY HOLDERS

Mr. McCall said a company's surrender values under the Massachusetts laws and also as to non-forfeiture laws. He said the first non-forfeiture law was known as the law of 1861 and was the result of a general demand that a policy holder should be remunerated for premiums paid if the policy was surrendered before its expiration.

Mr. McCall said his company's surplus is earned by a less mortality than that assumed to be probable and also by securing a rate of interest on money and investments better than that counted on in the actuarial tables. Asked as to the difference between Government supervision in England and State supervision in New York, Mr. McCall said there was practically no Government supervision in England. The only thing of this nature he said, was the filing of a statement of the insurance companies with the Board of Trade.

HISTORY OF INSURANCE.

Mr. McCall then went into a history of life insurance in this State, telling of the great number of companies started from 1875 to 1880 and of the failure of most of them through extravagance and incompetence.

Mr. McCall said that the increasing compensation to agents was a temptation for agents to rebuke but Mr. McCall said under the "Nylie" system the agents contracted not to do so and forfeited benefits of that system if they violated their agreements. He then went into a detailed statement of general legislation saying:

FEARS BADGERING

"With the beginning of every year I dare say it is the feeling of every executive officer—I know it is of myself—that for the ensuing five or six months of the year we shall be badgered and harassed to death in every State in the Union by introduction of bad bills of every kind. Some times men of honor feel they have a right to amend a law and their motives are all right but mainly the general insurance legislation of this country emanates from people who are desirous of striking at insurance companies."

BLACKMAILING BILLS

"I believe that three out of four insurance bills introduced in the United States are blackmailing bills. The management of these companies really tremble in the beginning of the year as to what they have to encounter during the first six months of next year."

"It is a condition which I think your committee can do much to prevail against if it will pass a law similar to the Massachusetts law—which has been very effective. I think that every bill introduced shall be lodged or reported in the office of the Secretary of State."

CONDITIONS IN NEVADA

NEW YORK, October 4.—President John A. McCall of the New York Life Insurance Company said before the insurance inquiry began today that the company had received a telegram from Samuel Davis, the superintendent of insurance of Nevada, that he proposed to consult the Attorney General of the State with a view to a possible revocation of the New York Life Company's license to do business in Nevada.

"He would act," said Mr. McCall, "unless certain gentlemen had certain things that would require a considerable amount of resignation on their part. I don't think they will do it and Mr. Davis will find things are all not going his way."

John C. McCall, secretary of the company, stated there were only 45,000 people in the entire State and that 1,100 of them were policy-holders. The company had never thought it worth while to have a branch office in Nevada, but all the business was trans-

To the Honorable Board of Public Works: It has been brought to the attention of the Central Labor Council that the Southern Pacific Company is now successfully annexing water frontage to their already huge holdings with out the consent of the people.

The communication was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

HAVE NO FAITH IN STORY OF CLERK

NEW YORK, October 4.—The detectives and the police have satisfied themselves that Harry Leonard the boy who did the National City Bank out of $88,000 worth of securities by means of a forged check, had no accomplices. They announced yesterday that all the evidence to convict young Leonard had been obtained and that the case was closed.

In court yesterday, Leonard seemed eager to talk concerning himself but the police would not let him. Once the reporters surrounded him successfully and he got hunched in the story before the police shut him up.

I've been making a study of banking and banking methods," he began, "ever since I've been down on the street. A month ago I wrote an article for a Wall Street publication showing up the carelessness of the messenger service down there. I liked the article so well that I decided to demonstrate the thing and make a name for myself."

MUSIC WILL NOT BE CHANGED

COMPOSITIONS OF MASTERS STILL TO BE GIVEN IN CATHOLIC CHURCHES.

A telegram from St. Louis reads in effect that the Catholic archbishop of that place, Most Rev. John L. Glennon, has ordered the abandonment of paid choirs, the substitution of the Gregorian chant for vocal music of an operatic character and the exclusion of women from the church choirs of that archdiocese.

GREGORIAN CHANT.

The substitution of the Gregorian chant for the more inspiring music which has been a feature of Catholic worship for years where it was possible to maintain a mixed chorus in the choir, in itself dispenses with women in the choir-gallery, because the music in question is intended solely for the male voice.

POPE'S SUGGESTION.

The order of Archbishop Glennon would seem to be in harmony with the wishes of the ruling Pope, expressed shortly after his ascension to the papal throne, and which, it is now understood are being respected in all the Catholic churches in the Eternal City and throughout Italy.

ALLEGED ORDER.

At the time those wishes were expressed, the news was sent to this country that the Pope had ordered the abolition of female choirs and the substitution of the Gregorian chant for the compositions of the masters of Catholic music which have been sung in Catholic churches for generations.

The announcement of the alleged order attracted a great deal of attention because it meant the annihilation of singing bodies both of soloists and choristers in various parts of the country engaged at a great outlay of money, which were capable of rendering the finest musical compositions, in some places almost on a plane of equality with the highest salaried artists in the opera houses of the great cities.

IN CALIFORNIA.

In California there are hundreds of Catholic churches, comprising mixed voices, and in the support of some of these hundreds of choirs are spent every year. These choirs render masses written for both male and female voices, though, of course the number of female singers is largely in excess of that of the males.

If the alleged order should be put into force it would have a serious effect upon the rendition of Catholic music in the churches of the State and many of the compositions of the masters which are elevated and inspiring would eventually become forgotten. Years would have to elapse before the female singers could be replaced by males and then, it is claimed by those who appreciate the inspiring masses of Lambillotte, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven and a host of other composers of lesser fame, that the same religious effect could not be produced by the elegiac and requiem Gregorian substitute.

PASTORS WOULD OBEY.

Despite this fact, all the pastors of the local Catholic churches who were interviewed at the time stated unflinchingly that, if an order such as is above outlined should be received from Rome it would be carried out to the letter. This for a time would have a serious effect upon the local choirs of that denomination because an indefinable time would have to elapse before the places of the women singers could be filled more especially in view of the fact that the men would be required to give their services gratuitously.

Catholics will, therefore be pleased to learn that there is at present no immediate prospect of a revolution of this kind taking place in the music or the composition of the choirs of their several churches.

No such order as that credited to the present Pope has been issued to the Catholic hierarchy of this country and such being the case each Archbishop is at liberty to have such music of a sacred character rendered in the churches under his jurisdiction as it is possible for the means and tastes of the several pastors to provide.

This was stated in effect today by Rev. E. P. Dempsey, the young and energetic pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception of this city. Father Dempsey is a lover of florid music in church worship, a fact which is borne out by the excellent choir, which his church supports. Besides, one of his assistants Rev. Father Semon is a vocalist on operatic taste, training and ability.

Father Dempsey declares that, instead of issuing an order regarding music to the hierarchy, His Holiness simply asked their views on the subject and permitted them to act in the premises as their taste and wisdom dictated.

Archbishop Riordan has taken no steps to change the existing order of things and it is believed that, in view of his elevated ideas as regards music the old order of things will not soon be changed.

San Leandro Marshal Seizes 100 Feet of Fire Hose to Meet Scorchers.

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 4.—T. W. Harrison of the Oakland Carriage Company on Twelfth street, Oakland, with E. F. Simms whose automobile ran into and killed Joseph Bitterly last week, were arrested in automobile No. 73 in San Leandro at 9 o'clock last evening by Marshal Gelsenhofer. Simms was let off, but Harrison was held for trial and Simms put up $50 bail for his appearance. The case is not set but the complaint will be drawn by Assistant District Attorney Harrison, who is now trying the Martin case in the town hall here.

Marshal Gelsenhofer has also notified A. Meyerstein of Golden Gate avenue that he may consider himself under arrest for driving his automobile through San Leandro at unlawful speed on Sunday last. Both of these parties have been repeatedly warned against fast driving by Marshal Gelsenhofer.

Marshal Gelsenhofer has made arrangements for the laying of 100 feet of fire hose for use on Sunday next in stopping too fast automobilists. If they do not stop when ordered a stream of water with full head of power will be thrown on and the automobilists washed from out of their conveyances. City authorities here are determined that the dangerous speed of automobiles through San Leandro shall be stopped.

Dr. Hamlin then testified that Vencelau had made a dying statement in the presence of Deputy District Attorney Brown, Clarence Crowell, Captain of Police Peterson and others.

TRIBUNE'S STORY.

It developed that the dying statement in which Vencelau accused his wife of shooting him, was in the possession of Deputy District Attorney Brown who was absent in Berkeley trying a case. It was very necessary that the document should be introduced in evidence. Attorney A. L. Erick and Prosecuting Attorney Leach finally agreed to take the dying declaration of Vencelau as published in THE TRIBUNE of September 19 and have it admitted as evidence. Judge Geary consented to this and THE TRIBUNE'S statement was admitted as evidence. The only damaging evidence against the wife is contained in the statement which the husband made.

Captain of Police Peterson then took the stand. He testified that after arriving at the Vencelau home he interviewed the wife while she was still suffering from the excitement. At that time the wife said the shooting was accidental and begged for the privilege of going to the Receiving Hospital with her husband. "Who did the shooting?" Captain Peterson asked her.

"I did," she replied, "I was jealous and thought he was going to leave me. I wanted to kill myself when I got the revolver. In the scuffle which occurred the gun went off. He tried to take the pistol from me."

After Captain Peterson's testimony Judge Geary held Mrs. Vencelau to answer for trial before the Superior Court.

WRIGHT SAYS MITCHELTREE WAS AFTER COIN

Accused Former Senator Declares Assemblyman Feared He Would be Prosecuted.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 4.—Former Senator Eli Wright, one of the accused men who gave testimony in Emmons' behalf late yesterday afternoon, was recalled for further cross-examination this morning when the trial of former Senator E. J. Emmons was resumed.

Wright said he could not remember the order in which the members of the committee on Commissions and Retrenchment left the house to which they had been assigned when the first meeting of that committee adjourned.

Wright, in answer to further questions, said he had discussed the case with Charles Hogg, the San Francisco attorney, who was his guest at the time the committee organized, and had also talked with Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms Tuite about it. Both Hogg and Tuite were present when the committee organized, although they were not in the committee room at the time organization was effected.

ACCUSES ASSEMBLYMAN.

In answer to a question Wright said Fayette Mitcheltree, a member of the assembly, came to him and said he was about to be indicted for embezzlement and wanted $300. Wright said that he replied that he was in trouble himself and needed all the money he could get. Wright said that Mitcheltree told him he would take $200 and finally dropped to $100. The witness said he declined to give this amount, ever since which time Mitcheltree has been against him.

Wright denied that he had ever told Mitcheltree that a combination had been formed between him, French, Emmons and Bunkers to get money out of building and loan associations.

DENIES CHARGE.

The witness further denied that he had ever told Mitcheltree that the committee was going to force William Corbin to come before it.

The witness also denied that he had said to any person that if he had known in advance he would not have had any dealings with a man like Joseph S. Jordan, and that it looked then that it would cost him (Wright) more to get clear than he got out of the whole transaction.

TO RATIFY PEACE IN AMERICA

Diplomatic Relations Are Resumed at Washington.

WASHINGTON, October 4.—Diplomatic relations between Russia and Japan were resumed at the State Department for a short time today while Baron Rosen, the Russian Ambassador, and Mr. Takahira, the Japanese Minister, discussed the form of ratification of their respective countries. The call was made by appointment at the request of Mr. Takahira, who desired to see the Russian form of ratification. Accordingly, Secretary Root sent for Mr. Smith, chief of the diplomatic bureau of the State Department, who brought to the diplomatic room a copy of the Russian extradition treaty, which gave Mr. Takahira the information he desired. The envoys remained for a few minutes in conversation with Secretary Root without further exchanges. They bowed pleasantly as they parted outside the diplomatic room.

It would seem certain from this that the ratifications of the peace treaty are to be exchanged at Washington.

THE LIFE OF A BRIDE.

A woman may know that she has ceased to be a bride only—

When she finds herself saying uncomplimentary things to her husband.

The first time her husband criticizes her frocks.

When she discovers she is jealous.

When she grows economical with his kisses.

When she begins to nag.

When he becomes sarcastic about the food.

When she does not mind coming to breakfast in curl papers.

When he tells her how pretty some other woman looks.

When he begins to eulogize his mother.

When a meal becomes so quiet that she can plan a whole frock between the courses.

When he begins to go to his club.

When she begins to hunt up her old friends and enjoys calling on them.

When he comes in late for dinner.

When she forgets to come home from the matinee in time to greet him before dinner.—Minneapolis Tribune.

SEEKS HEAVY DAMAGES

Spirited Contest Begun in Suit Against Two Companies.

A spirited contest is expected in the trial of the damage suit brought by Claude L. Assalena against the Oakland Traction Company and the People's Express Company for $20,000 to reimburse him for injuries received in an accident which occurred on the Webster street bridge, April 22, 1904. The choosing of jurors was finished yesterday and attorneys were hard at work this morning introducing testimony and making exceptions.

The men selected to try the case are E. J. Blanding, Manuel Borges, C. A. Brown, Jacob Colyer, J. L. Hollis, John H. Rampe, William Roberts, H. H. Schoor, H. John A. Taylor, T. M. Tracy, J. W. Watson, and George Weeks.

The first witness called was J. O'F. Smith, who was sitting beside plaintiff at the time of the accident happened and who stated to the jury that they were seated on the outside of an Alameda car going towards that city and had nearly reached the other side of the Webster street bridge when the car was run into by an express wagon. The single tree caught Assalena by the leg and pulled him off the car. The flesh was torn from his legs, his back injured and his skull fractured.

The attorneys interested in the case are N. C. Chapman and Mortimer Smith, representing Assalena, Attorney George E. De Golia and C. H. Wilson of San Francisco, representing the People's Express Company, and Harrison Bell and Edward W. Engle, who are watching out for the interests of the Oakland Traction Consolidated.

The street car company claims that it is blameless in the affair and its attorneys have taken little part so far in the proceedings, leaving the attorneys for the People's Express Company to make the fight against the plaintiff.

ROBBINS STICKS TO STORY

MAINTAINS UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION HE DID NOT SHOOT AT DUNNE.

The trial of Lee Robbins, charged with being implicated in an attempt to shoot Frank Dunne, is nearing a close and it is expected that a verdict will be reached this evening. Robbins was under cross-examination all the morning and stuck to his story that the only man he met after starting for his home on the night in question was a Bert Ingalls; that he did not see Ingalls at the scene of the shooting and did not know him intimately.

He claims that Dunne attacked him and had his head under his arm during the struggle they had at Thirteenth and Clay streets and that he was unable to even tell that the pistol shots were fired near or far away. He admits, however, that he did fear the shots.

BEGIN FIGHT AGAINST BIG OIL MONOPOLY

Producers of San Joaquin Valley Plan Pipe Line to Tide Water and the Market.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., October 4.—The independent companies in the Kern River, the McKittrick, the Sunset and the California fields. If the plans of the producers are carried out, the properties of the independent companies will be leased to the proposed company and will be paid for in stock issued by the company.

By this means the new company will hold in fee simple all the oil properties in the San Joaquin Valley, with the exception of the holdings of the railroads, the Associated Oil Company and the Union Oil Company, and will be in a position to take steps toward transporting independent oil by means of an independent pipe line to tide water and the market.

Preliminary plans were also laid for the construction of two million barrel reservoirs for the storage of the independent oil.

ANGELS OF BIBLE ARGUES AGAINST NOT LADIES MRS. CHADWICK.

NEW YORK SCULPTOR MUST CHANGE SEX OF CHURCH STATUES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—They are changing the faces of some thirty or forty angels in Belmont Memorial Chapel of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine. J. Gunzen Mothe-Borglum, the sculptor who modeled the angels, made them all lady angels. The building committee, stirred up by over-zealous delegates to the recent diocesan convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church recently in session here, has ordered that lady angels won't do. When the discovery of the mistake was brought to the notice of Rev. Dr. John Peters, the secretary of the building committee, he wrote to Sculptor Mothe-Borglum expressing the opinion that the criticism of the observant delegates had good foundation, and calling to his attention the fact that angels are named in the Bible had masculine names. He scored a point on Mr. Borglum that one of the most important and conspicuous figures in all the heavenly company with which the chapel was graced was that of the Angel of Incarnation. Borglum had portrayed this angel as a very beautiful woman of Madonna-like sweetness and seriousness. Dr. Peters gently intimated that the New Testament specifically stated that the Angel of Incarnation was Archangel Gabriel. He also brought to Mr. Borglum's notice so it is understood that Archangel Michael and Raphael were not ladies. Mothe-Borglum meekly admitted his error and said he would gratefully accept any suggestion made by the building committee. Word has gone out that the angels are to be changed at once. The sculptor's female figures are to be made into stern, the rounded feminine cheeks, and other contours are to be made rigid and masculine. There will be no turning out of the finished statues, they will merely be amended.

HENRY CLEWS TELLS OF STOCK EXCHANGE

Reports Coming From the Money Market—Some of the Successful Campaigns.

(Special Correspondence)

New York, September 30. Stock Exchange speculation has this week reflected the cumulative indications of strain in the money situation. A further hardening of call rates has taken place, but, coincidentally, evidence has developed of the determination of important banking interests to keep the situation under control and prevent as far as possible undue alarm and liquidation such as would naturally result from speculation, even though temporary advances in call rates. The additional engagements of gold for import under conditions that on the surface do not indicate profit suggest that the movement has indirect connection with stock market operations, and that the large clients and operators who are the holders of the great bulk of the floating supply of securities are using every possible means to prevent a severe recoil during the season of monetary activity from the high prices to which they have advanced the general list of Stock Exchange securities. The outside public—in contrast to the professional manipulators and speculative interests—are not in the market as investors and have not been interested as such during the recent advance. Their only activity has been that of traders to catch fluctuations; and the market, therefore, of maintaining the market at its present high level with the clients and not professional interests, already mentioned. Their efforts to support the market, or their efforts to scientifically unload in the face of the money situation that is now at hand, present a picture of active fluctuations for some time to come, and suggest the necessity of extreme caution in operation on the buying side and the advisability of taking quick profits. Exchange conservatism can hardly at this time be too strongly recommended in trading, especially in stocks that are now at record-making prices, as the "high and mighty" may fall like other mortals. Speculatively held stocks at abnormally high prices are not warranted by dividend disbursements—are for obvious reasons particularly susceptible to the adverse influence of difficult banking accommodation.

BULL CAMPAIGNS.

There have, it is true, been active and successful bull campaigns when money has commanded a much higher rate than that now current. But the time it is hardly probable that a readjustment of accounts to a higher money level can be accomplished without a period of active liquidation making the progress of such readjustment. The immediate outlook certainly does not favor a return to the abundant money conditions that have been current thus far this year. It would not be surprising if a still higher call money rate should obtain during the coming week. The Bank of England, as was expected, advanced its minimum discount rate on Thursday to 4 per cent, which figure has not been current since September, 1903. This action may be regarded as a further hammer on the gold movement, at any rate it will need a materially higher money market here to attract the metal. The negotiations that are reported for a joint loan at Paris and Berlin of $100,000,000 to Russia will necessarily involve a curtailment of outstanding French and German funds, and while it is quite true that both these countries were more or less prepared for financing an indemnity payment by Russia of considerably greater magnitude than the loan now proposed, the significance of the current negotiations from a money outlook standpoint is that funds that were considered reserved when the indemnity was waived must again be accumulated. In addition to the check upon gold relief, the local money market during the immediate future must experience the contraction required for the regular October dividend and interest disbursements of which something like $75,000,000 to $80,000,000 are payable through New York financial institutions. In this connection it is of interest to note that the dividend payable by directly industrial concerns this October exceeds those of last year by something like $100,000,000. Another source of contraction is the payment which is due today of $25,000,000 on account of Pennsylvania coal bills and a similar payment of $12,000,000 on account of the Atchafalaya. The third installment of $10,000,000 on account of the Japanese loan will become due about the middle of October, and there is reason to believe a very considerable part of this payment will promptly find its way to London, which will naturally have the effect of putting up exchange rates as well as the money rate here. Our banks are already severely extended, and there is little in sight to suggest any immediate relief from current forced liquidation of Wall Street loans, which is a factor sufficiently powerful to curtail operations on a large scale by any of the associated manipulators or large individual operators. The Western demand for crop money in which there was a full last week has been renewed on a large scale. Still another money influence that is becoming more and more apparent is the drain resulting from the covering of customs duties into the Treasury consequent upon the large importations of luxuries and other classes of merchandise so natural in times of general prosperity such as now exists throughout the country. During the month of August, for instance, the customs duties covered into the Treasury at New York alone amounted to above $7,500,000, and the present indications are that September figures will show a material increase.

SOME IMPORTS.

Imports of merchandise for the first eight months of the current calendar year amounted in value to $770,000,000, an increase of $103,000,000 over the imports for the corresponding months last year. The larger imports necessarily mean increased revenue for the Government, and in turn removes the most potent influence for tariff legislation at any rate removes the prime necessity for a widespread reconstruction of tariff schedules. On the other hand, the convictions in the case of Chicago packers for conspiring to raise prices in connection with the transportation of their products contain much to support the arguments of those opposing Government rate control in that they show that legal remedies already exist for the rate evil if properly applied. Therefore the incentive for anything like hysterical legislation both in connection with the tariff and railroad rates seems to be gradually diminishing. This does not mean that both subjects will not become the source of much agitation and thus unquestionably exert some influence in Stock Exchange circles; but the prospects are favorable to the belief that the ultimate result of such legislation will not be confiscatory in the case of the railroads nor interfere with industrial prosperity in the instance of the tariff. Nevertheless, the mere fact that there will be widespread discussion on this question can, at best, be a trifling influence in an influence that may well be kept in mind in considering future market conditions.

There has been no indication of any curtailment of the general business situation throughout the country. The iron and steel industry is fully maintaining its previous activity and in all the larger departments the capacity of the mills is well taken care of for the first half of 1905, while the steel rail mills have orders extending as far ahead as October. The weather is continuing particularly favorable for the finish of the corn crop, and any damage by frosts in this direction can, at best, be trifling. Bank clearings continue to reflect general business activity, and railroad earnings are also highly indicative of a liberal distribution of merchandise. In other words, prosperity is at flood tide, but it shows no signs of being overdone, and stock market discounts conditions and that current prices may be considered to have been advanced not alone upon the favorable conditions that now exist, but those that are in prospect.

BASEBALL MAGNATES ARE IN SESSION.

CINCINNATI, October 4.—The meeting of the National Board of Arbitration of the Minor Leagues, scheduled for today, brought many baseball men from all parts of the country to the city yesterday and last night.

The meeting was called to consider charges brought by President Cavanaugh, of the Southern League, and Manager Joyner, of Atlanta, against Howard Griffiths and other class A men. George Tetbaugh, chairman of the board, called the meeting; President T. J. Bryce of the Columbus Club, and George Stallings, manager of the Buffalo Eastern League Club, were the advance guard who arrived last night. The board consists of George Tetbaugh, chairman; J. C. Cavanaugh, president; Bert, of San Francisco; Tim Murnane, of Boston, and Howard Griffiths.

TO RAISE QUARANTINE ABOUT NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, October 4.—To business men the most encouraging feature of the yellow fever situation is the disposition that is being manifested by parishes and towns in Louisiana to raise their quarantines about October 13, in harmony with the suggestion of Dr. White and President Southerland.

The Louisiana State University, it is announced, will open on November 14. The various departments of Tulane University will open about the same time. The public schools in many parts of Louisiana are already in operation.

MATTER IS REFERRED TO REFEREE WEAN.

CHICAGO, October 4.—Bankruptcy proceedings against E. I. Rosenfeld, general manager of the Western Life Indemnity Insurance Company, were today referred by Federal Judge S. H. Betha, to Referee in Bankruptcy Wean. Attorney Levinson, for the plaintiffs, told the court that Rosenfeld refused to turn any assets over to the receiver. The court agreed, stipulating, however, that the attorney should be one heretofore not interested in the proceedings.

SHIPS COLLIDE IN FOG

CAPTAIN OF ILL-FATED CITY OF CHESTER TELLS HOW VESSEL WAS SUNK.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 4.—In dramatic manner Captain Thomas Wallace related before Judge Hunt and a jury the story of the loss of the steamship City of Chester just outside the spar buoy, within 100 yards of which now lies the wreck of the ill-fated Alameda. The City of Chester was sent to her death by a blow from the iron prow of the Occidental and Oriental liner Oceano more than seventeen years ago. But the facts of that tragedy of the sea are still fresh in the mind of Captain Wallace and he related them with as much fidelity to detail as though the disaster had just occurred. The similarity of the weather of that day of long ago when the City of Chester went down and that prevailing when the Alameda was lost are strikingly brought out by Captain Wallace. He said:

"When he turned the prow of the City of Chester out toward the heads the day was clear and beautiful and no man aboard had the first thought that disaster would soon be upon us. The passengers gathered by the rail, enjoying the panorama of the city, and the passengers on the City of Chester were looking at the Golden Gate in safety and turned toward the heads when, just at the spar buoy off Fort Point, we ran into a fog as thick as any that ever lay over the sea. Our engines were slowed down and we were groping along when we heard two bells dead ahead. We swung the wheel to starboard and the ship responded, turned to port. In an instant two bells again sounded dead ahead and then the great hull of the Oceano loomed through the fog. I signaled the engines to back at full speed but it was too late for the Oceano was upon us. Her prow crashed through the side of the City of Chester and penetrated ten feet into her vitals."

"Seeing that the blow was a fatal one, we grappled the Oceano and held to her while we hurried some of the passengers over the side on to the other ship. When we saw that our ship was going down, however, and that it would be dangerous to hang longer to the Oceano, we lowered three lifeboats and filled them with passengers. Just then the lines were cut from the Oceano and the City of Chester, deprived of support, went down like a stone. We had but a few minutes in which to work and it is remarkable that we saved as many as we did, for sudden was the catastrophe and so sudden the sinking of our ship."

"Among the dead of that disaster were John C. and Helen Hamilton. Their children are pressing a suit for $100,000 damages for their loss. Captain Wallace's version of the wreck is but one of many that will be offered by the plaintiffs to establish, if possible, their allegation that the loss of their parents was due solely to the carelessness of the employees of the Occidental and Oriental Steamship Company."

An Editor on His Travels

Not long ago T. G. Daniells, editor of the Alameda Argus, made a trip all the way to Germany, and found the people he met and the things he saw so interesting that he told his readers all about it in a series of entertaining letters. These letters have now been printed in pamphlet form and sent out as a souvenir of the editor's journeyings and musings. They are well worth reading. The style is unconventional and chatty and the observation intelligent. Besides, the Alameda point of view is not devoid of interest to those who have leisure and a sense of humor. Mr. Daniells found many things in Germany to admire, some to laugh at and a few to condemn—particularly the harnessing of women with dogs—and was pleased to find that his clean shave and round-toed shoes made him an object of attention. In spite of all temptations to become a Rooshian, a Prooshian or even an I-tal-i-an, he returns to Alameda an American. God be praised! We have not lost a good man. Now that we have read Mr. Daniells' impressions of Germany, we are consumed with a desire to learn Germany's impressions of Mr. Daniells. No doubt he created a sensation when he fell, pen in hand, round-shod and tonsorialized, on the unsuspecting Fatherland. The astonishment of the natives at the advent of the apparition was scarcely equal to the amazement of Mr. Daniells at the discovery that the Germans are not Dutchmen and do not pass their entire time drinking lager, eating limburger and pretzels and singing "Die Wacht am Rhein." He was also lost in wonder that they knew he was an American yet were so ignorant that they could not understand what he said. This leads him to conclude that the average of intelligence is much greater in Alameda than in Germany. Everybody in Alameda understands Mr. Daniells. However, we leave to those who desire to be charmed, rested and amused the delightful task of reading first hand Mr. Daniells' naive record of his own travels. A more exciting journey has not been taken since Sam Slick made his memorable voyage from Bangor to Boston in the sloop Jerusha Jane. Sterne's "Sentimental Journey" is as cold slaw to sauer kraut beside it. Alameda can feel justly proud that she has a Marco Polo in her midst capable of going so far and seeing so much, and setting it all down in pen-writing. Sancho Panza was nothing in his island to what Mr. Daniells is in his.

Professor Nathaniel Butler of Chicago University says the day of the "self-made" man is past. He thinks the mould was broken when John D. Rockefeller cast himself.

Minister Barrett in His Own Defense

We have received under State Department frank a letter from John Barrett, late minister to Panama (printed in another column) replying to an editorial which appeared in THE TRIBUNE some time ago, criticising Mr. Barrett's speech before the Trans-Mississippi Congress in Portland, Oregon.

Mr. Barrett heatedly denies that he made an argument in favor of breaking down the Chinese exclusion laws. Nevertheless his speech, when the time, place and circumstances are taken into consideration, constituted a plea for opening our doors to the Chinese. The boycott on American goods and the policy of exclusion were being discussed, and Mr. Barrett drew an extravagant and misleading picture of the value of the Chinese trade. His remarks were an exhortation for the people of this Coast to cultivate commercial relations with the Chinese at all hazards. It matters little that he did not in so many words suggest the repeal of the exclusion law—that was clearly implied by the tenor of his speech.

He also denies that he said China contained 400,000,000 inhabitants. Nevertheless he made a talk on the assumption that the Chinese numbered that many and that each Chinese might buy $5 worth of foreign products annually. Whether this was in the present or twenty years hence is of small moment. It was extravagant hyperbole. The value of our trade with Cuba exceeds the value of our trade with China. The assumption that China might import $5 worth of foreign goods per capita annually had no foundation in fact or analogy. It was a case of drawing the long bow.

Charging up the statistics to missionaries is simply an evasion of responsibility for figures that are grotesque in their absurdity. Rear-Admiral George Clark, of Oregon fame, recently printed a magazine article in which he exposed the so called population statistics, mainly guesswork of the loosest description, of China. In his opinion the inhabitants of the Chinese empire do not number more than 200,000,000. The great [redacted] for the scantiest of wages and had [redacted] in a European. They have no purchasing power, their value as customers is trifling.

Mr. Barrett denies vilifying Secretary Taft. He may have convinced the Secretary of War of his innocence in this respect, but not others who are conversant with the circumstances of the case and Mr. Barrett's peculiar methods of advertising himself. On the eve of Mr. Barrett's departure from the Isthmus, the Panama Star and Herald printed an anonymous article savagely criticising Secretary Taft and ascribing all the good accomplished by the United States Government on the Isthmus to Minister John Barrett. When the editor was requested to name the writer of the effusion, he gave Mr. Barrett's secretary as the author. Mr. Barrett denied all knowledge of the matter, and there the matter stands.

With the modesty which is so becoming to him and which is his chief glory and characteristic, Mr. Barrett disclaims "bobbing up on all public occasions with a speech." Ever since the outbreak of the Spanish War gave him an opportunity to rush to the front of the stage and pose under the limelight Mr. Barrett has kept himself in the public eye. He was first projected into the Orient by Grover Cleveland, who appointed him Minister to Siam as a supposed reward for problematical services rendered the Democratic party through the editorial columns of an obscure paper in Vermont. Whether Mr. Cleveland really intended to reward Mr. Barrett or merely get rid of him has always been a matter of grave doubt. At any rate, there was cholera in Siam at the time Mr. Barrett was appointed to Bangkok. It is a matter of history that the cholera threw up its job and disappeared from the country shortly after the advent of Mr. Barrett. Possibly this was only a coincidence, but it has caused ill-natured people to suggest that there was not room enough in Siam for the two at the same time.

When the political whirl of 1896 came on, Mr. Barrett let go of his party and held on to his job. He has been holding on to the Government's coat tail ever since. His bureau of publicity gently but insistently suggests that he is holding up the Government. This may be true in a sense—at least, to the extent of salary. However, we do not desire to do Mr. Barrett any injustice, and therefore refrain from criticising him individually. Like the fiddler at the frontier dance, he is doing the best he knows how and it would be a pity to shoot him.

The Berkeley Gazette has installed a new press of greater speed and capacity than the one heretofore in use. We are glad to note this evidence of enterprise and prosperity on the part of our neighbor. The Gazette is zealous in its efforts to build up Berkeley, and in striving for public favor refrains from assailing competitors and trying to make business unprofitable for more fortunate publishers. If it cannot get patronage on the square and on a business basis it does without it. As a result, the Gazette is esteemed by the community and enjoys the liberal patronage it deserves.

A Distinction With a Difference

A Pasadena contemporary is instructed that there is a broad distinction between captious criticism of worthy enterprise and honest protest against public wrong. Superficial criticism without a justifiable motive has been characterized as "knocking," but this appellation is very liable to abuse. Every scheme of rapacity and plunder puts up a protest against "knocking" when its deformity is exposed. It is the scheme that will not bear exposure that is the most ready to answer its critics by the cry of "Knocking." If all the scoundrels, and all the promoters of dishonest schemes are to be heard on the subject of "knocking" all honest criticism of wrongdoing would become extinct. All these purveyors of wrong would put out the Sun to alleviate the affliction of sore eyes.

Our Pasadena contemporary would exercise whatever of understanding it possesses if it would clearly distinguish between disgruntled carping and the honest exposure of fraud. To do this with precision and with open-minded candor may require a higher degree of analytical power than our Pasadena contemporary has manifested, but we will perform for it the office of an illustration so clearly drawn as to reduce the conclusion to the level of the lowest capacity.

The owners of the 1,000,000 or 1,200,000 acres of swamp-land in the State of California, the title to which was obtained by legislative chicanery and judicial fraud, hold the lands so obtained at an assessed valuation of about $1 an acre. They deliberately propose that the Government of the United States, which presented this land to the State of California, and the State of California, which in turn lost it by fraud to its present owners, or their grantors, shall contribute the sum of $16,000,000 to the reclamation of this land, and that after such reclamation it shall remain private property. To induce this contribution the promoters of this scheme declare that the land so reclaimed will be worth $100,000,000. They, however, make the amazing concession—the phenomenal liberality of proposing to assist the State and the Government in the project of conferring upon themselves as the reclaimed swamp-land owners this $100,000,000, and they fix their contribution to the production of this vast increment at 8 cents on the dollar!

There are few intelligences so enfeebled as not to understand that private money can be enlisted in any enterprise which is certain to take $1,000,000 in value and increase it to $100,000,000, if the scheme is plainly practicable. If engineering science can guarantee the absolute reclamation of the million of acres of swamp-lands, and, following the assurance of the swamp-land ring, can make that land worth $100,000,000, then there is abundant margin for the investment of private capital. If these results are not absolutely certain, or if they are so debatable or doubtful that private capital cannot be enlisted, then the Government of the United States and the State of California have no business to invest public money in the enterprise. Or, to state this in a more conspicuous form: The Government and the State have exactly the same right to an absolute guarantee of the profitableness of an investment of public money as is required by those who control the investment of private capital. To deny this axiom is to manifest a want of analytical capacity equal to a state of mental imbecility.

If the owners of the swamp-lands had proposed to turn these lands over to the State at their present valuation, for the purposes of reclamation at Government expense the proposition would have been worthy of consideration, but the proposition before the people is so utterly devoid of even the remote semblance of honesty that its denunciation is the inherent and natural impulse of every honest mind. To characterize this protest as "knocking" is to disclose an intelligence so long in disuse as to have become rusty. Before further public exhibition of its condition it should be brushed off.

Our contemporary is published in a beautiful city. It is a city of homes and flower gardens, comprising many elegant mansions, the occupants of which are people whose sphere of activity is east of the Rocky Mountains, but who hibernate amid the gorgeous sunshine and still more gorgeous sunshine of Pasadena. Pasadena is enveloped in an atmosphere of stateliness, a flavor of elegant repose, the color of "innocuous desuetude" accompanied by a scent of the cloister. It is taking no part in the drama of history; contributing no sacrifice to the tragedy of progress. Such an environment evolves a civilized condition which may fairly be characterized as "punky." To properly preserve punk it is necessary to keep it dry. In this regard our Pasadena contemporary is performing its whole duty for the community for which it is published.

A contract for printing a booklet descriptive of Berkeley has been let to a San Francisco firm, although the work could have been equally as well done in Berkeley establishments. It seems that the committee having the booklet in charge made the rounds in San Francisco and Oakland seeking a place where they could get the job done cheap. They saved a small sum by getting the printing done in San Francisco. The incident illustrates the queer ideas some people have of how a town should be built up. If any of the committee are in business in Berkeley they are doubtless ardent advocates of home trading—that is, to the extent of having Berkeley people buy from them. Oakland has a few business men of this type, men who grow indignant because other people buy in San Francisco, but who habitually do the same thing themselves. They do not hesitate to discriminate against their fellow-traders in this city, but feel that they are injured if others follow their example. A San Francisco trademark on that booklet will be an excellent advertisement for Berkeley and a most convincing testimonial to the civic patriotism of the committee.

Earle A. Sargent, the bicycle thief shot by Officer McCready, was a specimen of the college athlete. He had been an athletic crack at three universities, and seems to have concluded that he was fully prepared to take up "cracking" as a profession. Now we are told he stole and robbed because he was crazed by love.

LIFE'S PANORAMA IN NEW YORK.

The whirligig of life in Gotham is so rapid that it seems impossible to check the pace. One must go with the crowd or be trampled on. To show just how people and things keep on the go, the Tribune summarizes the daily round in these short lines:

- Every 40 seconds an immigrant arrives.
- Every 3 minutes some one is arrested.
- Every 6 minutes a child is born.
- Every 7 minutes there is a funeral.
- Every 13 minutes a couple get married.
- Every 42 minutes a new business firm starts up.
- Every 48 minutes a building catches fire.
- Every 48 minutes a ship leaves the harbor.
- Every 51 minutes a new building is erected.
- Every 1-3-4 hours some one is killed by accident.
- Every 7 hours some one fails in business.
- Every 8 hours an attempt to kill some one is made.
- Every 8-1-2 hours some couple is divorced.
- Every 10 hours some one commits suicide.
- Every 2 days some one is murdered.

Watery Pimples Followed by Swelling and Dry Scabs—Tried Everything without Success—Second Application of Cuticura Removed All Soreness—Another of the

REMARKABLE CURES BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I suffered with eczema on my hands for two years, but was at last cured with the Cuticura Remedies. The disease commenced by small, watery pimples breaking out on the back of my hands, which itched, burned, and pained awfully, as if an electric battery was being held against my body. My hands would swell until I could hardly use them. Then they would get dry and scaly, then break out again and be the same thing over. I was treated by my family physician, but did not get any better. Then I tried every kind of ointment I ever heard of, and every home remedy any one recommended.

"I then went to another doctor, who helped them some, but after being treated by him for three months my hands were no better and the treatment was so severe it was almost worse than the disease. I had often seen Cuticura advertised and concluded to try it. It just took two applications of Cuticura Ointment to take the soreness out of my hands. I commenced by putting it on three times a day, then just in the evening, and when I had used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, one cake of Cuticura Soap, and three vials of Cuticura Resolvent Pills, my hands were well, and much softer and smoother than ever before. Thanks to the Cuticura Remedies. Yours respectfully, Mrs. G. J. Heston, Lucas, Iowa, May 29, 1905."

WOOD WAYS.

O roads, O paths, O ways that lead Through woods where all the oak trees bleed

With autumn! and the frosty reds Of fallen leaves make whispering beds For winds to toss and turn upon— Like restless Care that cannot sleep— Beneath whose rustling tatters war The last wildflower is buried deep: One way of all I love to wend, That toward the golden sunset goes— A way o'er which the red leaf blows, With an old gateway at its end, Where summer, that my soul o'erflows, My summer of love, blooms like a wild-wood rose.

O winter ways, when spears of ice Arm every bough! and in a vice Of iron frost the streams are held; When, where the deadened oak was felled For firewood, deep the snow and sleet— Where lone the muffled woodsmen toiled— Are trampled down by heavy feet, And on the brush the hoarfrost's spoiled;

O road I love to take again!— While gray the heaven sleets or snows— At whose far end, at twilight's close, Glimmers an old-time window pane, Where spring, that is my heart's repose, My spring of love, like a great fire glows. —Madison Cawein, in September Lip-pincott's.

"WHEN A WOMAN GETS HOLD OF A MAN'S COAT HE MIGHT AS WELL GIVE UP AND MARRY HER."
"NO MAN WHO MARRIES TWO WOMEN ON A SMALL SALARY CAN AFFORD CIGARS. LET HIM MAKE CIGARETTES. IT'S CHEAPER."
"IF A MAN MARRIES TWO WOMEN, WHEN THE FIRST ONE SCOLDS THAT NIGHT HE HAD BETTER TURN TURN OVER AND GO TO SLEEP."
"NO MAN OUGHT TO TRY TO FOOL A LOT OF WOMEN."
"MOST ANY MAN WILL MARRY A WOMAN IF SHE BEGS LONG ENOUGH AND HARD ENOUGH AND FURNISHES THE MONEY FOR THE WEDDING."
"TWO WOMEN ARE NO GOOD. THEY BOTHER TOO MUCH AND MAKE TROUBLE."
"IF A MAN'S FIRST WIFE IS GOOD TO HIM, HE WILL LIKE HER BETTER THAN ANY OTHER WOMAN."

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—These are the axioms of Stanley Sobieszcki, bigamist, philosopher and blacksmith, who has been held to the Grand Jury under bonds for having one more wife than the law allows. Both wives were in court. Each carried in her arms a 4-months-old baby. The first wife had four other children at home. The women were philosophical.

"I don't blame the other girl," said wife No. 1 today. "She didn't know he was a married man. He fooled her too."

"A man has the advantage of a woman," said wife No. 2. "He fooled both of us. How could I know he was lying?"

Sobieszcki tried to support his two families on his earnings of $12.50 a week. He married Kate Galus four months ago.

"I couldn't get out of marrying Kate," said Sobieszcki. "She would have me. I finally married her to keep her from jumping in the lake."

For three days the bridegroom paid his devotions to his new wife.

"My first wife gave it to me pretty hard because I had been away three days; but, would you believe it, I got it again when I went back to Kate. She was as jealous as could be, and gave it to me rough. She cried and wanted to know where I had been. Well, it made me sick, and I just laughed at her. That's where a lot of men make a mistake."

"They try to explain things to their wives, and they get all mixed up, and then there's the devil to pay. Say nothing and laugh. That's my plan. Of course, you get it good and strong, but after a few hours their tongues get tired."

Robins, who has just come here from the East.

The guest list includes about forty friends.

SOCIETY GIRL SINGS FAVORITE HYMN AS LIFE GOES OUT

CHICAGO, October 4.—Chanting a hymn with her last breath Miss Clara Butler, a society girl well known in Morgan Park, where she lived, died here from injuries she received under the wheels of a Rock Island train at the Morgan Park station. Her death came after hours of suffering.

She was a member of the choir of the Morgan Park Baptist Church, and while she lay upon the operating table and surgeons worked over her she insisted upon singing two of the hymns she most loved. "Abide With Me" was her favorite and her voice rang true, though she knew death was near.

Mrs. Butler, the dead girl's mother, is prostrated and it is feared her mind will give way.

The tragedy is the second case of violent death which has occurred in the Butler family within a year. Lloyd Butler, a brother, was drowned in Texas less than twelve months ago.

ABOUT THE HOUSE.

Preserved Peaches.—Take ripe but not soft peaches and pour boiling water over them to take off the skins. Weigh equal quantities of fruit and sugar and put them together in an earthen pan over night. In the morning pour off the syrup and boil it a few minutes, take off the scum and put back in kettle. When the syrup boils up drop in the peaches. Boil them slowly three-quarters of an hour and then take out and place in preserving jars. Boil the syrup fifteen minutes longer and pour over the fruit.

Quince and Apple Preserves.—Weigh an equal quantity of quinces and apples and then take an equal amount of sugar by weight. Pare, quarter and core the fruit. When the quinces are tender take them out and boil the apples in the quince water, put them into syrup and boil until they look red and clear. Do not boil quinces in the syrup, but put layers of apples, when done, into the jar with the quinces previously cooked tender in water and pour syrup over them.

KATHRYN KIDDER, ACTRESS, IN A SECRET MARRIAGE

MRS. LOUIS K. ANSPACHER, NEE KATHRYN KIDDER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Miss Kathryn Kidder, who is connected with distinguished Virginia families, has wealthy relatives in the North and has long been a star on the dramatic stage, notably in M. Victorien Sardou's "Mme. Sans Gene," the Herald says, has given her friends a surprise. She has been quietly married to Louis K. Anspacher, Ph. D., of Columbia University. The wedding is a surprise also to his friends. The ceremony took place Wednesday at the home of her brother, Pancoast Kidder in Fayetteville, near Syracuse, N. Y.

SURPRISED AT DEPOT AS THEY START ON HONEYMOON

CHICAGO, October 4.—There were sixty of them, and at their head marched a youth who bore, mid shoes and a banner with the strange device—not "Excelsior!"—just this:

LOUISE AND WILLIE, JR.
JUST MARRIED.

"Louise" is, or was, "Louise C. Potter of the South Side, and "Willie" is W. H. Fairclough, Jr., for eighteen years general salesman for the Chicago Edison Company. The part Louise and Willie played in the festivities was merely negative. They figured as the innocent victims, having been married recently at the Hotel Holland by the Rev. Dr. Vance. They were starting on their wedding trip to Portland, Or., where they will be the guests of H. W. Goode, president of the Lewis and Clark Fair, who is related to the bridegroom.

When they alighted from their cab at the Union depot the crowd, which consisted of employees of the Edison Company, was there to meet and cheer them on their way.

Louise and Willie were not particularly cheered by the first number of the program, which consisted of a medley of shoes and cereal.

Louise, who looked prettily helpless in a gown of blue silk, shrieked, "Oh, Dear!" and clung to her husband, and Willie muttered something that rhymed with "Neil!" clutched his umbrella menacingly and glared about him. The crowd simply closed in and, before they knew it, the new Mr. and Mrs. Fairclough were forming part of the procession which the youth and the banner led.

It was just at the time when the depot was crowded with commuters, and for a time they thought it was a riot. When they were reassured they all smiled appreciatively. Most commuters, being married, have gone through the same thing.

Downstairs the procession encountered the Japanese peace envoys, who were waiting for a train. The Japs scattered before the charge, like the Russians did at the Yalu, and their retreat became a panic under a smothering bombardment of rice.

After fifteen minutes of acute agony for the bride and bridegroom, their train came in and they were escorted, with appropriate whoops, to their car. Thereafter a quartet consisting of R. G. Snyder, George Ashline, Thomas O'Brien and C. H. Wrede, sang a composition which wound up sadly: "Good-by, Willie; we're going to leave you now."

The thought of parting with his friends did not appear to give Willie any unbearable pangs.

When the train drew out of the station at last Mrs. Fairclough turned to her husband and said:

"Billy, I guess this proves I love you."

"Yes," said "Billy," fervently, "any woman who will go through that for a man deserves a monument."

Seeds of fruit never digest; neither do skins. Stones swallowed are dangerous, necessitating operations. If swallowed, the person must immediately take a basin of thick gruel or bread and milk so as to surround the stone and carry it away harmlessly.

DETECTIVE HIRED TO TRAIL HUSBAND ROBS WIFE

NEW YORK, October 4.—A unique story of how a wife, seeking to entrap her husband, was herself led into the clutches of a woman detective, who is now accused of blackmailing, and who later is said to have confessed all, has been unearthed. The victim was Mrs. Stephen Cross, of West Chester, and the person who assisted materially in saving her from domestic unhappiness and from the detective's alleged plotting was her own husband, Stephen Cross.

Stephen Cross is a nephew and sole heir of Mitchell Valentine, an octogenarian bachelor of East Chester, whose estate is valued at $3,000,000. The self-confessed blackmailer, when trapped, admitted that she made false reports relative to Mr. Cross. The attention of the District Attorney has been called to the case.

The accused detective, Mrs. Edith Lee of No. 117 West Twenty-seventh street, was engaged by Mrs. Cross to shadow Mr. Cross, and received a retainer of $200 after she is said to have reported that the suspected woman in the case was a "pretty blonde," whom Mr. Cross frequently met in Harlem.

The detective did much of her telephoning to Mrs. Cross from the grocery store of Colonel James Lane, which is across the street from the Cross home. The Colonel interested himself, and after a talk with Mrs. Cross, he decided to find out how much of the reports, that had excited his neighbor almost into nervous prostration, was true.

Colonel Lane says he arranged for a meeting between Mrs. Cross and the detective in the hearing of himself and Mr. Cross. Thomas Ryan, who is in the Department of Taxes, was also let into the secret. The detective is said to have related her story and the listeners then appeared.

When Mr. Cross came face to face with Mrs. Lee, Colonel Lane and Mr. Ryan posed as police officers. The woman then is said to have weakened and admitted that she had been giving Mrs. Cross false reports concerning Mr. Cross and the mythical "pretty blonde."

While Mrs. Lee was telling Mrs. Cross that she had seen Mr. Cross meet the "pretty blonde" on the "L" station at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Third Avenue several nights previously and accompany her to various places, it was all that Mr. Cross could do, he says, to restrain himself. After Mrs. Lee had finished her report Colonel Lane gave a prearranged signal and the three men walked into the room. The Colonel said loudly:

"Come in here, Cross, but you, sergeant, stay outside in the hall and guard the room."

The reference to "sergeant" was meant for Mr. Ryan. The Colonel talked and acted as if he were a detective. Mrs. Lee is said to have weakened as soon as Cross appeared with the men she believed to be police. She tried to escape by saying that one of her detectives and not she herself had seen Mr. Cross with the "pretty blonde." Finally, she is said to have confessed that she was making false reports to Mr. Cross.

After denouncing the woman as an impostor and threatening her with arrest, she was hustled out of the house. She started on a run when she reached the sidewalk and did not stop until she reached the station.

Baked Rice Pudding.—Boil one cupful of raw rice twenty minutes, or until soft, but not broken. Beat four eggs light, and when you have stirred a tablespoonful of butter into the rice add these and season with pepper and salt. Stir in gradually a scant quart of milk; heat all well for one minute turn into a buttered pudding dish and bake, covered, half an hour. Then brown.

EXCHANGE AFTER GIVES ADVICE TO NEW HOME STUDENTS

MEMBERS HAVE A HARD TIME TO FIND SUITABLE QUARTERS.

PRESIDENT OF HARVARD SAYS BE HONEST TO ALL, ALSO GENEROUS.

The committee appointed to look up new quarters for the Merchants' Exchange, reported last night at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors, recommending that the rooms under a lease by A. Jonas, and situated over the Hub Clothing Store, be accepted by the Exchange at a rental of $35 per month.

Director Crowley immediately moved that the committee's report be adopted, but several of the directors objected to taking any action until they had inspected the rooms for themselves. Director Sinclair objected on the ground that nothing could be done in the matter until all of the directors had been notified that definite action was to be taken on the adoption of the rooms in question.

Time President Williams, in the chair, suggested that the board take a recess of half an hour and visit the rooms in order that a definite conclusion could be reached without further delay. A motion to this effect was duly made, seconded and passed, and all members present, who had not already seen the rooms, went under the direction of Director Jonas, to look them over. Mr. Jonas stated that he was willing to spend one hundred and fifty dollars in refitting and remodeling the rooms to meet the demands of the directors.

On the return of the directors from their inspection of the rooms, each was called upon to express his individual opinion in the matter. They were unanimous in the opinion that the rooms, in their present condition would not answer the needs of the Exchange, and they expressed their opinion that the work of putting them in first-class order would cost not less than five hundred dollars.

Mr. Jonas then presented a willingness to expend only one hundred and fifty dollars in refitting, the directors decided that no action be taken in the matter. After a lengthy discussion the directors ordered that the committee be continued with the addition of two new members and that it be given a month's more time in which to further investigate the matter of new quarters for the Exchange.

Directors Coward and Gard were appointed as the additional members of the committee.

What a happy world this would be if people continued to act after marriage as they do during courtship!

ATTRACTIONS AT THEATERS

"GHOSTS" IS THE NEXT SHOW COMING TO THE MAC-DONOUGH.

RICHMOND TRUSTEES FIND THEY ARE IN SAME BOAT AS SAUSALITO.

The psychological lecture by Dr. Alexander J. McIvor-Tyndall, which was delivered at the Macdonough yesterday afternoon, was in the nature of a social event. The noted psychologist took for his theme the subject "Ghosts." He based his remarks largely upon the Ibsen drama of that name, and gave us a clear and comprehensive understanding of the "Ghosts" drama by the great Norwegian playwright. Dr. McIvor-Tyndall considers Ibsen a psychologist, as he stated that all of Ibsen's plays, and particularly "Ghosts," are psychological in depth and purposeful in meaning. "Ibsen's plays are intensely dramatic sermons," is a statement made by Dr. McIvor-Tyndall.

"GHOSTS" AT THE MACDONOUGH.

The old discussion as to whether a fine actor really feels the emotions which he portrays upon the stage has been revived by the starring troupe of Harry Messinger. This young actor plays Oswald Aving in Ibsen's "Ghosts" and, so far as mental stress and storm is concerned, the part equals Hamlet.

"Ghosts" will be presented at the Macdonough theater for two nights, Thursday and Friday, October 5 and 6, and is now on sale.

"THE GIRL FROM KAYS."

If the theatrical entertainment that tickles the palate of one community is sure to tickle that of another, if human nature is the same the world over, as many philosophers insist, then speculation as to how "The Girl from Kays" will be received here is superfluous. Its principal exponent is Bobby North, who is seen at an immensely rich and exceedingly vulgar man, bent on a class that is awfully bored. Tripping after him comes Miss Lulu Blow, a milliner's assistant, a gay, joyous young person, who becomes finally ensnared in the meshes of the millionaire's love.

"The Girl from Kays" will be seen for two nights and two matinees, Saturday and Sunday, October 7 and 8. Seats are now on sale.

ETHEL BARRYMORE.

"Sunday," the four-act play in which Miss Ethel Barrymore will be seen at the Macdonough theater, was written by an Englishman, Thomas Raceward, but two of the scenes are laid in a typical Bret Harte mining town in the far West. As the idol of the town, Miss Barrymore has achieved her greatest success since Charles Frohman, recognizing her unusual dramatic abilities, launched her as a star five seasons ago. Ethel Barrymore will only be here one night, Monday, October 3. Seats on sale Thursday, October 6.

YE LIBERTY PLAYHOUSE.

It took a good many extra cars to take the large throng of home-bred audiences last night after the performance of "Rumbug" at the Liberty Playhouse, given by California Court of Young Men's Institute, Barney Bernard and the popular Bishop players worked hard to please the throng, and judging from the continuous laughter, their efforts were highly successful.

Aside from the regular performance there were several added features, which very materially assisted in making a very enjoyable evening. Miss Price, grand president of the order, delivered a short and telling address before the curtain was raised. Miss Price continued an excellent monologue and August Hindricks gave a beautiful violin solo, accompanied by the orchestra. The piano, taken altogether, it will be an evening long to be remembered by the council members and the audience.

From San Francisco was present.

EXPRESSES THANKS TO THE DIRECTORS.

A communication was received at the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Exchange from C. A. Patterson, secretary of the Linda Park Improvement Club of Contra Costa county, thanking the directors for the efforts they have made in their behalf in the matter of changing the boundary line between Alameda and Contra Costa counties, an effort having been made several weeks ago by the members of the club to have the Linda Park district transferred from Contra Costa county to Alameda county. The directors ordered that Secretary Walker look up the law in the matter and report the result of his investigation to the Board.

Mr. Walker conferred with the district attorney and found that the matter would require State legislation. He so reported to the Exchange and to the members of the Linda Park Club.

FREE KINDERGARTEN DAY AT IDORA PARK.

The Central Free Kindergarten, under the patronage of a number of ladies prominent in social circles, will have a day at Idora Park next Saturday. All the details of the affair have been completed.

Next in importance to the barn dance in the evening, which will have all the abandon and happy quality of a genuine country dance, is the genuine colored minstrel show in the theater. The committee in charge of this feature has not started entering a number of surprises are promised.

There will be foot racing between boys and girls from eight to fifteen years of age for prizes that may be seen in Jaff & Penney's window. Booths will be erected at which tea and coffee will be served. There will also be a booth for the sale of home-made candy.

MOTHERHOOD

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I had been married seven years and had no children, owing to a female weakness and womb trouble, which caused me severe suffering each month. A lady advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did so, and now I have no more pains and am perfectly well, besides having a fine baby boy. Mrs. ROSA F. KAREL, Ravenna, Neb.

Another happy and grateful mother writes to Mrs. Pinkham as follows:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I was very anxious for a child, but could not carry one to maturity. My husband advised me to take Lydia E. INAUGURATES NEW STEAMSHIP SERVICE.

NEW YORK, October 4.—The cabled announcement of the sailing of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's steamer Tagus from Southampton, England, on Saturday for New York, via the West Indies, inaugurating the new service of that company between this port, Jamaica, Central and South America and the Windward Islands, created considerable comment in transportation circles. The service will be fortnightly.

Emil L. Boas, manager of the New York office of the Hamburg-American line, yesterday said:

"With reference to the proposed competition of the Royal Mail between New York and the West Indies, the Hamburg-American line considers that this is an interference with their business and they propose to take steps to protect their interests, for which reason they have given notice of the withdrawal from the West Indian conference, to take effect October 9. They also wish emphatically to contradict the report that the new service of the Royal Mail has been started on the basis of a friendly arrangement with the Hamburg-American line."

The West Indian conference includes all the lines from England and the Continent to the West Indies, and they are at present in thorough agreement as to rates and other matters. The withdrawal of the Hamburg-American line from the conference, it is said, may precipitate a rate war on both sides of the Atlantic in the West Indian field.

A representative of Sanderson & Son, who are the New York agents of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company, when informed of the statement made by Mr. Boas, said:

"We have no intention of antagonizing the Hamburg-American line in starting a line from New York to Jamaica and other ports touched at by their Atlas line service, and had hoped to work in entire agreement with them in the West Indian field. It should be borne in mind that this line is simply an extension of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's service, which has been in operation for many years between England and the ports touched at by the new service. Of course, we expect to secure our fair share of both passengers and freight for the ports our steamers call at, but we do not intend to cut rates to secure the business unless our competitors start that kind of thing."

KIDNEY DISEASES CAUSE ONE-THIRD OF THE TOTAL DEATHS.

When the Kidneys fail to perform their functions properly by not straining out the poisonous waste matter from the blood as it passes through them, the poisons are carried by the circulation to every part of the body, deranging the different organs. This causes heart trouble, stomach trouble, sluggish liver and a host of other ills, all due to deranged Kidneys.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE

corrects irregularities and cures Kidney and Bladder diseases in every form, tones up the whole system, and the diseases that have resulted from disordered Kidneys disappear, because the cause has been removed. Commence taking FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE at the first sign of danger. Do not risk having Bright's Disease or Diabetes.

CURED OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Mr. Robert G. Burke, Elmore, Saratoga Co., N. Y., writes:—I am glad to have an opportunity of telling what magnificent results I have had from using FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE after having tried other advertised medicines and several physicians. Before I began I had to get up from 12 to 20 times each night to relieve my bladder. I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired that I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. In fact, I was so badly used up that I had given up hope of living when I was urged by a friend to try FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. One 50-cent bottle worked wonders, and before the bottle the superfluous flesh had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Kidney trouble. My friends were surprised that I was cured, as they all thought I was going to die. Every few days some one comes from miles away to learn the name of the wonderful medicine that cured me of Bright's Disease, and not one that has tried it has failed to be benefited.

BATTLE THE BEST THAT GEORGE SILER EVER SAW

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—I have been looking at fights nearly forty years and am forced to admit the fight between those crack lightweight—Battling Nelson and Jimmy Britt—was one of the best I have witnessed.

I have seen fight between men of all sizes and weights; fights that furnished more blood, more knockdown and more downright slugging—but in point of science, speed, gameness and fairness the recent battle at Colma undoubtedly was the best.

Besides being fortunate to witness a battle that will go down in ring history, at least California ring history, as one of the best that ever took place between men in their division, I saw a better line on their respective fighting abilities, which heretofore I did not possess. I knew Nelson by observation, only as a cheap preliminary fighter around Chicago, remembering him as a sort of a rough house fighter, short on science, but long on ability to stand the graft. He then failed to impress me as being a fighter who would graduate out of the preliminary class, or one who would ever get the opportunity to fight for the winner's end of a $50,000 purse. This was only a few years ago. At Colma, on September 5, he took down the long end of a $15,000 purse, received $10,000 more for his end of picture privilege, and is the most talked-of pugilist of today.

However, I have kept close tab on him during the last eight months, and therefore had a fairly good idea of his present fighting abilities. I had heard and read enough about him to think he was Britt's superior in everything pertaining to the game, except science, coolness and ring generalship. Today I know he is Britt's superior in everything pugilistic except artistic cleverness.

NELSON CLEVER IN A WAY.
He showed in his recent battle that gameness and especially his punishment was not his chief stock in trade, but that he possesses wonderful ability in mapping out a plan of battle and adhering strictly to it irrespective of the shifting of the tide of the struggle. He demonstrated that many times that afternoon. Before the battle he said he would win with a knock-out before the twenty-fifth round and that it would not surprise him if he did. Jimmy may say that he was bluffing, but he would make him look like a novice for three or four rounds, after which he would take a winning hand in the game and make some of the stunts out of James Edward, after which he would take a winning hand in the game and make some of the stunts out of James Edward.

BRITT WILD WHEN STUNG.
Britt, in explaining his fight, said: "It was actually a finish affair. The distance was such that points did not count for much, so I tried to knock him out as quick as I could, and he became leg or arm weary. My forte is science. Nelson's is slugging. I thought I could slug with him, and he repeatedly lost his head, so I took the short end of the money." Logical and tells the story of the defeat of a science boxer by a rough and ready fighter in an actual fight.

There is no doubt that had the battle been a twenty limit affair, a distance reachable by millers of the Britt stripe, the Californian would have fought on different lines, and escaping a knock-out, might have won on points as his style of fighting tells me is more suitable to that distance.

It was the first time I saw Britt in ring action, and I must admit he is thoroughly familiar with everything that pertains to a finished boxer. With all his science and experience he has much to learn in the art of effective hitting, as some of his blows, with both hands, were delivered with the inside of the glove. He is game to the core, can take an awful amount of punishment, and has excellent recuperative powers. He is not as good a ring general as I expected to see, as he was fighting a head, so to speak, when severely stung. He came up a gallant fight, and, although defeated, was not disgraced.

BAT HAD HIS TROUBLES, TOO.
It must not, however, be inferred that because Nelson won so apparently easily he was not given a warm argument, as there were times in the fight when even his warmest admirers feared.

TENNIS CLUB DUMBBELLS WIN NAMES NEW BASEBALL OFFICERS GAME

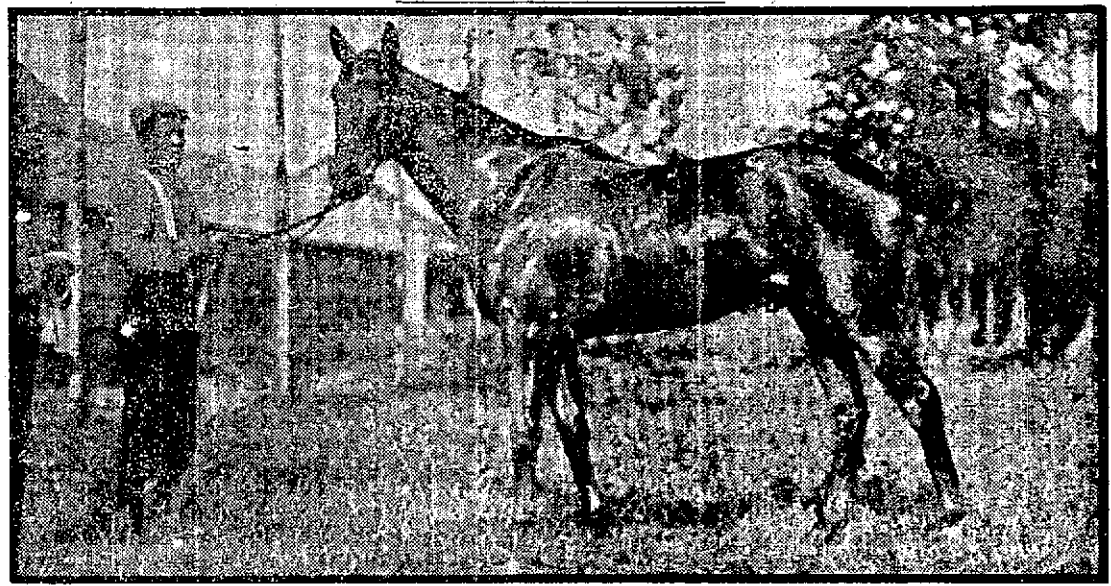

The new board of directors of the California Tennis Club met last night for the purpose of choosing officers for the ensuing year. W. S. MacArthur was again elected president and treasurer, and Grant M. Smith will succeed himself as vice-president. Dr. Sumner Hardy was elected secretary.

The following committees were also chosen: Grounds committee, N. Blaisdell (chairman), B. F. Nourse and Frank S. Mitchell; tournament committee, Dr. W. B. Lovelace (chairman), Harry Kotte and Chester Smith; election committee, election deferred. The following were chosen as delegates to the Pacific States Lawn Tennis Association: Dr. Sumner Hardy, Dr. McChesney, Herbert Schmidt and Grant M. Smith.

The reports of the different committees which have been acting for the past year showed the club to be in first-class shape, and the prospects are extremely good for another successful year.

On the Park courts to-day the final match of the ladies' handicap singles tournament, which was started several weeks ago, was played. In it Miss Vera Crocker will be opposed to Mrs. C. Watson. Both players showed good form through the tournament and a good match should follow. The winner will have her name inscribed on the Van Vleet cup, a trophy to be won three times before it goes into the permanent possession of any player.

REMARKABLE WINNINGS MADE BY SYSONBY IN TWO SEASONS

SYSONBY, the Thoroughbred of the KEENE Stables.

Earnings of Keene's Famous English-Bred Colt May Soon Exceed Those of the Great Three-Year Old Domino of Same Stable.

James R. Keene's great thoroughbred, Sysonby, whose brilliant record of unbroken victories this year has made him the talk of the American turf, is likely to have another record to his credit before he is retired. Sysonby has already won close to $200,000 during his career on the turf. To be exact, he has won $186,853 in stakes and purses.

This amount is only $10,000 less than that won by Mr. Keene's three-year-old Domino. Only three horses on the English turf have exceeded this amount. Donogavan with $275,000, and Flying Fox with $200,000.

Sysonby is a three-year-old son of the English horse Melton, dam Optima. His latest turf conquest runs his individual earnings, covering a career of two years, up to $186,853, of which $147,160 was won this season.

In point of money earned, Mr. Keene's stable easily tops any other in the country, having obtained $217,000 through racers flying its colors. This is $15,000 above W. C. Whitney's mark in 1903.

Sysonby's victory in the Annual Champion Stakes was his ninth consecutive success of the year. The colt has been defeated only once in his career, finishing third in the 1904 Futurity.

The following tables compare Sysonby's earnings with the three greatest broadwinners on the English turf:

TWO-YEAR-OLD, 1904.
Sweepstake $ 850
Brighton Beach, Brighton Junior 12,000
Saratoga, Flash Stakes 5,000
Saratoga, Special 13,000

LOS ANGELES, October 4.—Twin Sullivan and Tommy Burns rolled into town the other morning and the enterprising doublet lost no time in getting down to work. Twin has been working with the dogs up in the Alaska country and looks to be in first-class condition, but Mr. Burns is as fat as a Government contract, tipping the beam at 172 without sartorial trimmings.

Sullivan reports a busy season and says he brought some of that yellow stuff out of the Klondike country with him. Sullivan, who is a family man, is a twin, and that, with Mookman's hit, time he dropped a fly in the first round, he was the only one to land a hit on the other side of the ring. The heavy rainstorms of the past week pounded the grounds into shape again and the game was fast. This score:

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES CELEBRATE A VICTORY

A rally was held in the common school assembly hall at the Oakland High School to celebrate the victory last Saturday in the Bay Counties League field day, and to arouse enthusiasm in the football game that the team played this afternoon with Alameda High School at the Wayne grounds.

The main speakers disappointed Yell Leader Bolster by not appearing; but those that spoke went right to the point and made the affair a grand success. "Pop" Sutton, one of the most popular members of the faculty, was first to speak. He said that many had the idea that all rallies were the same. He said that this was not the case, and that always the "before" and "after"—the hope and memory of a field day or football game.

The speaker said he hoped that the boys would return with laurels, but he broken bones or bruises. He also said that he was not a prophet, but he had a "hunch" that Oakland would win.

Manager Coyne of the track team presented the school with the beautiful cup that Oakland won from the Lick school in the field day Saturday. Oakland must win the next two field days, he said, in order to keep the cup permanently. He said that he was sure that Oakland would do this, because whenever a cup came to Oakland it never went away again.

Captain Mike Davis of the football team also spoke.

Oakland went into the game, this afternoon, with the loss of their full-back, Younger Bels. He unfortunately broke his collar bone in practice a few days ago. Finnegan took his place on the eleven.

WHAT PORTLAND FIGHT FANS THINK OF 'FRISCO

PORTLAND, October 4.—Save for a few topnotchers and good drawing cards like Jimmy Britt, Eddie Hansen and Battling Nelson, it is said that the fighting game in San Francisco is in a bad way. "Harry" Green, who has come to Portland for the purpose of boxing Sailor Kelly twenty rounds in Vancouver, is authority for the foregoing statement, which goes to show that the boxing game is in an unhealthy condition the country over.

It is all right for a man like Britt to say Green is a "Brit" and a "wally," but a lot of the fighters cannot earn their salt. Take Tenny, who was defeated by Frankie Nell. Nell is a San Francisco boy and a champion, yet their receipts were so small that Tenny's end was not enough to pay his bill at Ebschman's place, where he was in training for four weeks.

It was also told that all Jim McCormick made out of his fight with Gus Ruhlman in Colma was $100 besides his expenses. He had a couple of weeks in the ring. That is small money for a man to work so hard for, but it just goes to show how some of the fighters are taken.

GREEN HAS HARD PUNCH.
Green, who has been fighting around the Middle West and East, is a well-known pugilist for a number of years. He is a well-appearing chap, twenty-five years of age. When he is not boxing he spends his time painting, and has turned out some very creditable studies. He has gone against a number of well-known pugilists in and around Chicago. He boxed Otto Seifert, an eight-round draw in Chicago, and a twelve-round draw in St. Louis, and Omaha. He boxed Jack O'Keefe, who was seen in Portland against Jimmy Britt, an eight-round draw, and a twelve-round draw in St. Louis, and Omaha. He boxed Young Corbett in ten rounds and boxed Young Corbett was knocked out by Green in the first round in a match in Chicago, and Green secured a decision over Harry Griffin in six rounds. Many of his latest battles have been short-round affairs, and he has been permitted in the East, but he looks in good condition to go twenty rounds.

SIX RUNS IN ANGELI TAKES THE SIXTH INNING

Five hits and six runs in one inning was the record made by the San Francisco team at Idora Park yesterday. Tozer was handling the sphere for Los Angeles and in the sixth inning he went to sleep. When he awoke the score stood 7 to 3 in favor of the Seals. For the next three innings he pitched good ball, but the Angels could only secure one more run and Tozer knew that his temporary lapse had lost his team the game. The score:

WILL DIRECT ATHLETIC MEET

Interest in the athletic festival to be given by the Reliance Club at Idora Park, October 12th, 13th and 14th is growing among the lovers of outdoor sports. The affair promises to set a standard for like events in the country.

The committee of arrangements met last night and elected Edwin Starnes, chairman, and Dr. Walter Smythe, treasurer. To Paul J. Carroll was given the direction of the affair, which will be a big feature of the festival. Emil Fritz will have charge of the theater.

The club football team will play the team from the revenue cutter, which will also be a baseball contest between teams representing the married and the unmarried members of the organization.

disco: There has been much discussion in regard to a fight between myself and my friend Sam Berger. I want to stop all discussion in that respect, and for that purpose I write this letter.

To begin with, Berger and I have been friends for several years. I have boxed together on many occasions, and I trained him for several of his fights. I understand that he has no intention for the present of entering the professional arena, and even if he has, it would not be by my desire to be his opponent, and for those reasons a bout between us two is impossible, as Berger entertains the same ideas that I do. Your truly, AL KAUFMANN.

KAUFMANN NOT TO FIGHT BERGER

Al Kaufmann says that friendship will interfere in the talk of a fight between him and Sam Berger. He has issued the following statement definitely settling the matter:

BLAMES UNITED STATES FOR AFFAIRS IN CUBA

Candidate For President of Island Says Ruin and Dishonor Faces the People.

NEW YORK, October 4.—"Liberty is dead in Cuba, and the condition of affairs there is worse than it ever was under Spanish rule, even in the most ferocious periods of the Western Government's financial ruin and dishonor face the people, if things continue as they are, the nation will be converted into one of hereditary rule."

That declaration was made last night by General Jose Miguel Gomez, Governor of the Province of Ciego de Avila and candidate of the Liberal party for the Presidency of Cuba, at the New Amsterdam Hotel where he is staying. Upon his arrival on the steamship Liberty from Havana yesterday General Gomez refused to discuss Cuban affairs at length, but after he had rested at his hotel he was more communicative.

"I am here to rest for some days," he continued. "And to breathe the air of liberty that is lacking in my own country and for which I have fought so long."

JAILS ARE FILLED. "On false charges the Government assassinates the liberals, the jails are filled with political prisoners, and we have no hope of justice from judges and magistrates who recognize no law but the will of the Government."

"We are hindered in casting our votes and Cuba is now suffering a reign of terror never equaled under Spanish domination. It is such things as these that make us withdraw from the elections. Public funds are used for electoral purposes."

The sanitary condition of the island is a disgrace. The Cuban Government has employed thousands of men in the sanitary department, but for voting, not for working purposes.

"It has become impossible to dare to oppose the Government without risk of one's life and liberty. The Mayor of Havana has been deprived of his office against the law and the whole city council have been dismissed because they were liberals. No one dares confess his political opinions for fear of assassination, for which the most desperate criminals are allowed by the United States Government to be at large."

For what is happening in Cuba the United States Government has a direct responsibility. Palma is enabled to do as he is doing only by telling the people every day that in case of revolution or disorder the United States would send troops to punish them and to sustain the Palma Government.

"I believe if the Platt amendment holds the United States Government is responsible for order in Cuba. It should never be taken for supporting the unlawful acts of the present Government and to serve as a screen for the commission of such acts as have been committed against the opponents of that Government. It is the duty of the United States to put a stop to such a condition, and if affairs continue as they are much longer we shall have to appeal to the United States to do so."

"If the United States should intervene in the matter of the elections and insist that these elections should be carried on honestly it would be proved that eighty per cent of the population are liberal. That proportion of the people hate Palma and his oppressors worse than they hate Weyler, for the conditions he has enforced are worse than ever existed under Spanish domination."

Before leaving Cuba General Gomez tendered his resignation as candidate for President in order, as he said, to give the convention full liberty in its proceedings.

Upon his arrival here he was informed that the convention was held last Sunday at the Hotel Hamilton and decided not to accept the resignation.

General Gomez said that before he could outline his action he would have to learn the reasons for this action by the convention and would have to give the matter deep thought.

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Stomach Troubles.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, containing vegetable and fruit acids, pure aseptic pepsin (government test), golden seal and diastase. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of Stuart's Tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 3000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after-dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret. There is any secret of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been achieved entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple, because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack and which lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "tonics," "pills" and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores, and the regular use of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

FILE THE WILL OF JACOB LITT.

NEW YORK, October 4.—The will of Jacob Litt, the theatrical manager, died yesterday, disposed of an estate of almost a quarter of a million dollars. The bulk of the property will go to the widow, Ruth Carpenter Litt, and the testator's two sons, Jacob Litt Jr. and Willard D. Litt.

In his will he named his friend and associate in business, Alexander W. Dingwall, as executor and trustee of his estate. Among the special bequests is one of $5000 to Mr. Dingwall, who is referred to in these words:

"To my friend Alexander W. Dingwall of Milwaukee, $5000, in recognition of faithful work in my behalf and as a slight token of my esteem for him after many years of intimate association."

Trust funds are then created by the will to pay annuities, one to widow and another to the sister of the testator, Louise Litt Fisher of San Francisco.

SWITCHMEN APT TO CAUSE BIG STRIKE.

CHICAGO, October 4.—High officials of the Grand Trunk Railroad have been called to Chicago to prevent a general strike of switchmen on the system growing out of the walkout of seventy men in the yards at Elmdale. Local officers last night admitted that the labor situation is growing more critical hourly.

Fourth Vice President McWaggin and General Superintendent Browlie of the Grand Trunk will arrive from Detroit today and will confer with Division Superintendent F. W. Zeagan and his assistant, W. E. Costello. It is expected, also, that a conference will be held with a committee from the strikers in an endeavor to adjust the dispute.

Vice Grand Master James B. Connors of the Switchmen's Union still hopes for peace, although the Grand Trunk officials have refused to consider the chief demands of the men—the reinstatement of the discharged members of the grievance committee.

PORTLAND, Or., October 4.—An Oregonian special from Eugene, Or., says that the Southern Pacific Company has detectives there who will make every effort to ferret out the matter of the blowing out of a rail in the track near McVey Point and bring the perpetrators to justice. The conclusion is reached that it was an attempt to wreck the train on the Union Pacific line towards the company. The idea that it was done with a view to robbing the train is not given much support.

HOUSEWORK FOR FIVE

And a year ago she could not live three months. Where would she have been if she hadn't changed the treatment before the three months were up? But let the doctor tell its own story.

Douglas, Mich., Sept. 22, 1905. Jno. J. Fulton Co.

Dear Sirs:—I write you to say that my wife is thriving as the result of your Compound. When she commenced taking it in March, 1904, she could not do her work. The specific gravity was 1.028 and sugar very heavy. Our doctor gave her up, said she could not live three months. This summer she had done the housework for five in the family. Included in Dr. Cousins' statement. To-night he made another test which is still better. Will close, thanking you for the interest you have taken in us. Yours sincerely, H. R. HAYLETT.
